THE Southern Farm Magazine has collected some statistics about the South which are quite interesting. The comparison is between conditions in 1860 and 1904. The figures show that today the South has almost as large a population as the entire country had before the war began, that it has almost as large a valuation, and that it has more railroads, more exports, more cotton spindles, and in a general way it is richer in natural resources, bank deposits, pig iron and coal than was the entire republic in 1860. No one who looks at the figures can have any doubts as to the future of the South. At no distant day it is bound to be the predominant figure in the country's commerce.

TWENTY-FIVE dozen spring turkeys have been shipped from Maysville to Portsmouth, N. H., for the Peace Commission to make peace with their appetites. After these are devoured the misunderstanding between Russia and Japan may receive the attention of the distinguished gentlemen.

A NEBRASKA woman jabbed a pitch fork through her husband's diaphragm when he refused to buy her a new hat. And the Frankfort Journal is unkind enough to ask: "What is a husband for except to buy his wife hats?"

A FRANKLIN county man shot his wife because she would not kiss him while he was intoxicated. The strong arm of the law should now shoot him down a little hole with a good, strong rope around his neck.

JOHN KING, the first man to engrave the Lord's Prayer on a 10-cent piece, has just gone to the poor-house. That was naturally the end of a man who would engage in as small business as that.

As all of the three members of the State Board of Election Commissioners reside in the 8th district there ought not to be any doubt about fair elections in this neck of the woods this year.

THE only woman train dispatcher is dead at Niles, Mich. She is said to have handled railroad trains with as much skill as the average society woman does the train to her dress.

"MARSE" HENRY WATTERSON is back from his trip abroad and the interesting letters he has been sending the Courier Journal will cease, the more's the pity.

POLITICAL.

Former Congressman John Dougherty is dead at Liberty Mo.

Anurew P. Meadow has been appointed postmaster at Whitman, Whitley county.

The Republican primary to nominate candidates for the various county offices in Bell will be held Saturday.

Hon. John W. Alexander, formerly representative from Mason county in the General Assembly, is dead at Maysville.

M. Witte, the Russian Peace Envoy, is quoted as saying the Japanese conditions will be so intolerable as to not admit of discussion.

As the result of a political controversy, Fred Hoshier and Henry Ahrens, town officers, fought in a saloon at Peoria, Ill., and Ahrens was killed.

H. F. Greene, member of the civil service commission, who is in Kentucky looking into irregularities in Federal offices, says it is peculiar that democrats did not take civil service examinations.

Gov. Beckham has named as party members of the State Election Commission Charles R. McDowell, of Danville, as the member for the Democratic party, and A. R. Burnam, of Richmond, as the member for the Republican party.

The Democrats of Laurel county will have only two candidates for county offices this year. It is understood that Jack Wiggins, of East Bernstadt, will make the race for Jailer against G. P. Johnson, and either Nathaniel Sewell or J. M. Feltner will make the race for County Superintendent against J. K. Lewis. The other candidates can lay in the shade and thank their stars that they neither have to hustle or hand over.—London Local.

Here and There.

Dr. R. M. Smith, of Somerset, has located at Buckeye.

Berry Hensley shot Mose Middleton, Jr., to death in Harlan.

Daniel Darling, of Allegheny, Pa., fatally shot his wife and tried to kill his mother-in-law.

It is said that Mrs. Cassie Chadwick's creditors will realize only seven mills on the dollar.

Lewis S. Frederick, prominent Shelbyville real estate and insurance man, died of heart trouble.

Mrs. Elizabeth Craig, of McCracken county, died from blood poison, caused by a fish-bone scratch.

Mrs. Mary Shaw, of Marrowbone, Cumberland county, committed suicide by hanging in her barn.

As a result of a quarrel over their business, H. H. Loving shot and killed H. A. Rose at Paducah.

The body of I. S. Andrews, a prominent attorney of Omaha, Neb., was found floating in a creek.

While chaperoning a party of young persons, George Turney was drowned in a lake near Newburn, Tenn.

Memphis Negroes will hold a mass meeting Sunday to inaugurate a movement against the "Jim Crow" law.

The mill, warehouses and elevator of the Kansas City Milling Company were destroyed by fire, entailing a loss of $150,000.

The increased mortality from yellow fever at New Orleans, is said to be due to the fact that the Italians are concealing cases among them until too late to do anything for the patients.

Mrs. John G. Carlisle, the wife of former Secretary Carlisle, is dangerously ill at her summer home in Bayshore, Long Island, and little hope is entertained of her recovery. Mrs. Carlisle has been in failing health since the death of her two sons, Will and Logan, six and eight years ago. For the last month Mr. Carlisle has been at the bedside of his wife.

Although there is an increase in the number of deaths at New Orleans, the health authorities display no alarm, and still feel confident of controlling the epidemic of yellow fever. They maintain that the alarm manifested in neighboring States is unjustified. Practically all the victims are among the poor Italians, who are panic-stricken, and seek to avoid investigation by the health officers.

Sergius Witte, Russia's ranking envoy to the peace conference, arrived in New York last week greeted with cheers from a large crowd as he descended from the gang plank at the steamship docks. In an interview Mr. Witte asserted that he was favorable to peace. While peace, however, was desirable to Russia, he said it was not indispensable. He spoke in high praise of the valor of the Japanese.

The commercial bodies of Louisville have protested to Gov. Beckham that the specifications for Kentucky's new Capitol have been so drawn as to exclude many of the manufactures of the State. He has been asked to have the specifications changed and to delay the letting of the contracts. The manufacturers of paints and oils and plumbing supplies are the chief complainants. Gov. Beckham has declared that all things being equal, Kentucky should have the preference in supplying materials for the new Statehouse, and has notified Architect Andrews to cut out all specifications which discriminate against Kentucky-made goods.

HUSTONVILLE.

Mrs. N. W. Pipes and son, Harry, and Mrs. J. B. Honaker leave on the 12th for a month's sojourn at Old Point Comfort.

Cowan & McCormack are shipping a car of good stock ewes to Georgetown. Lutes & Co. have a large number of stock ewes for sale.

A splendid 175-acre blue grass farm for sale at a bargain. Improvements and locality very desirable. Call on or address W. R. Williams.

L. C. Dunn has opened a first-class meat market next door west of Hotel Weatherford, and having a large refrigerator, will keep on hands at all times first-class meats at low prices.

The fair association will declare a dividend in a short time, which will be an agreeable surprise to many of its stockholders, and insures a still larger and better exhibition next year under the same efficient management.

"The interest in our fair and the old 'West End' far and near, is indicated by attendance at the latest exhibit from the following States: Tennessee, Alabama, Georgia, Virginia, Oklahoma, Missouri, Texas, Illinois, Ohio and Indiana.

Mrs. McCarty and Jeff Austin have piped gas from the well recently drilled at Mt. Salem and are delighted so far with it.

The pressure from this well is gradually increasing, which is an unusual feature in other gas districts and indicates its continuance.

There will be preaching at the Presbyterian church, Hustonville, Sunday next by the pastor, Rev. Landers. His morning subject will be: "Skeptics' Objections to Miracles." At the morning service Miss Lelia Wheeler will sing "The Lord is My Light."

Abe Newton, of the Newtonian Hotel here, informs your correspondent that he is going to buy at once an up-to-date four or six passenger automobile to be run to Moreland in the interest of his hotel. He expects to get same here in time to take a party to the Liberty fair, at which place it will carry passengers to and from the grounds.

IN NEIGHBORING COUNTIES.

Miss Kate Berry is dead at Danville. Mrs. Elizabeth Goucher, aged 60, is dead at Nicholasville.

Henry Brooks, aged 21, was drowned while bathing in a pond near Parksville.

Mrs. A. J. Goodfriend, wife of a prominent merchant of Middlesboro, is dead.

William Blankenship, of Mercer, has been married 37 years and has moved 65 times.

The Standard Oil Co. will move its distributing station from Danville to Junction City.

L. Philpot, a bank boss at the New Diamond Coal Co., in Laurel, was seriously stabbed by Frank Turner, a miner.

On Elisha creek, Leslie county, Felix Hoskins, a farmer is said to have been shot and killed by Nick Garrison at the latter's house. Hoskins and Garrison were cousins.

Frank James will be one of the drawing cards at the Uniontown fair this month. He and his pals drew about $2,000 out of the Bank of Columbia and killed its cashier April 29, 1872.

Near Wildie, working men engaged in putting in concrete foundations for bridge piers, found a drummer's grip filled with sample bottles of whisky and wine deeply embedded under five feet of water and three feet of clay.

Once at least, every year we get a saucy note from Joe Ballou, Stanford. This time it is simply "give us another dollar's worth of the good thing," and forthwith we marked him up for a dollar and a half's worth.—Somerset Journal.

Rev. C. M. Humphrey, pastor of the Methodist church of Wilmore, was arrested on the charge of using abusive and insulting language to Mrs. Charles Grow. His trial resulted in a hung jury. A coat of tar and feathers would fit Mr. Humphrey most becomingly.

The firm of Hume Bros., owners of the second largest cooperage plant in the United States, and located at Richmond, was forced into involuntary bankruptcy by the filing of papers in the Federal Court at Covington, setting forth certain claims and charging inability on the part of Hume Bros., to meet them. No regular schedule of complete liabilities was filed, but it is understood that the debts of the firm may reach $400,000. The plant is valued at less than half this sum. As the result of the involuntary assignment 250 people are thrown out of work, entailing a weekly loss of $2,000.
